LEADERSHIP

8 Leadership Practices for Extraordinary Business Results

THE DILEMMA: Leadership is about people, but many managers get so busy they lose sight of those who deliver the results. The best leaders have high expectations for their team members while also creating environments where their people know the plan, are focused on areas that need attention, and feel appreciated for every step forward.

THE RESEARCH: The world's #3 ranked leadership speaker, Adrian Gostick brings 20 years of experience coaching executives and has surveyed more than 1 million working adults. He presents actionable steps for leaders to develop their skills in engaging and motivating.

"Adrian's messages were right on and resonated beautifully with all. His wonderful delivery of insightful leadership lessons with great humor captured the minds and hearts of all. As one leader said, 'Adrian spoke for an hour and if he went for two hours, we'd still be with him.'"

-Tom Joyce, CEO, Danaher

THE RESULT: The payoffs in getting this right come not only in leaders boosting performance and morale, but in gaining a better understand of their team members, how they are contributing, and what more they have to give. Audiences will learn how to:

- Solicit and act on input
- Create positive accountability
- Look for small wins
- Reinforce core values
- Develop a culture of gratitude

THE AUDIENCE: Designed for senior leaders and managers (can be tailored to include all employees), Adrian Gostick has presented on leadership issues to corporate audiences and conferences worldwide. The session is always customized to an organization's specific culture challenges based on pre-calls, interviews and research
